

FreedomWorks.org presents:

John Stossel

7 p.m., Tuesday, March 29
University Theatre
Florida Atlantic University
777 Glades Rd., Boca Raton

In his talk, Freedom and its Enemies, the libertarian journalist John Stossel will point to the extraordinary benefits of individual liberty and free markets and what he has learned in his 30-year journey from his job as a Portland, Oregon, consumer reporter to his current position as ABC's in-house contrarian.

Stossel has received 19 Emmy Awards and has been honored five times for excellence in consumer reporting by the National Press Club. He is currently co-anchor of ABC News weekly news magazine "20/20."

This FREE event is open to students and the public. For more information, call John Hallman at (561) 392-4432.

Directions: FAU is located a 1/2 mile east of I-95 on Glades Road. After turning into FAU's main entrance, make the first right on Indian River Street, make the third left on Palm Beach Avenue, and then a left into the parking lot.

FreedomWorks.org presents:

John Stossel

7 p.m., Tuesday, March 29
University Theatre
Florida Atlantic University
777 Glades Rd., Boca Raton

In his talk, Freedom and its Enemies, the libertarian journalist John Stossel will point to the extraordinary benefits of individual liberty and free markets and what he has learned in his 30-year journey from his job as a Portland, Oregon, consumer reporter to his current position as ABC's in-house contrarian.

Stossel has received 19 Emmy Awards and has been honored five times for excellence in consumer reporting by the National Press Club. He is currently co-anchor of ABC News weekly news magazine "20/20."

This FREE event is open to students and the public. For more information, call John Hallman at (561) 392-4432.

Directions: FAU is located a 1/2 mile east of I-95 on Glades Road. After turning into FAU's main entrance, make the first right on Indian River Street, make the third left on Palm Beach Avenue, and then a left into the parking lot.

